

PROCEED TELL AND SHOW SYSTEM OF NARRATIVE TEXT OF ENGLISH COURSE AT SURAKARTA

Simek Sanny

Bina Nusantara University, Jakarta, Indonesia

ABSTRACT

The point of this examination was to know whether of applying Tell and Show procedure can impact students' graphic text at the 10th grade of English Course Surakarta. The subject of this exploration was understudies at the 10th grade of English Course at Surakarta. The scientists utilized genuine exploratory plan which comprise of control bunch and test bunch. The analysts use test as the information assortment technique. To examine whether there was a positive and huge contrasts study between test class and control class, the analysts investigated the information by utilizing t-test recipe. The outcome uncovered that the normal score of Trial class was higher (72.12) than the normal of control class (66.23). It tends to be inferred that instructing in the trial class utilizing Tell and Show (TS) methodology gave preferred outcome in engaging text over in charge class.

KEYWORDS: - Tell Show Methodology, TS Procedure, English Unknown dialect, English Course.

INTRODUCTION

Language is required by all individuals in their day to day existence particularly English language. Learning English language is one of science that ought to be figured out how to every one individuals. English turns out to be vital and helpful. English is an obligatory learning subject that should be educated for the understudies in the school from the primary school up to college. Dominating English as an unknown dialect obviously isn't just about as straightforward as learning English as a public language. Instructors should get what the system that is appropriate to be utilized in English educating and learning cycle to comprehend English material well, in light of the fact that the characters of understudies' language obtaining are distinctive every others.

One of significant point the educator can be a motivation about their composition and turns out to be acceptable ally recorded as a hard copy learning measure. As an educator we need to direct their composing dependent on the reason for the instructing and learning measure.

This load of prerequisites will experience botches on going learning procees, on the grounds that in learning unknown dialect, language students start taking in a language from their native language. The students might experience. To make them simple in learning enlightening, the technique that is utilized to assist composing with handling is utilizing tell and show methodology, in light of the fact that the understudies typically expound on something around them that is intriguing for them. Tell and show system help the studens in fostering their iedas fluently recorded as a hard copy. Alongside it served to supported their reasoning and creative mind checked that applying Tell Show system can work with the understudies to share their thoughts dependent on the point.

LITERATUREREVIEW

The Idea of Tell and Show Methodology Setting up a decent educating learning measure is the fundamental way of working on the educator's creativity. Instructor ought to comprehend pre-state of the students that comprise old enough, foundation information and objective of the students. This action is done to choose the instructing and learning measure in the study hall. Then again, utilizing system is extra way of rearranging in learning process. Strategy is a learning action that ought to be finished by the educator or understudy to the point of learning can be adequately and effectively. Yeasy and Suhono proposed that Methodology In learning English can be utilized to improve on learning English interaction since as a guidance and as a clue in showing learning measure for the educator, while for the understudies it very well may be utilized to simplify in learning measure. Technique is likewise the simple arrangement of activity to get something significant in instructive term, particularly in English subject.

In view of the definition over, the scientists presume that Tell and Show (TS) procedure is the system that understudy do to cause a basic sentence and afterward to create in appearing to make an image in the perusers' psyche. It can assist the understudies with fostering their writing in expressive text and insight regarding something that they need to compose. The understudies think about the importance of text that they compose. Since the understudies in this system have two stages and each progression has a reason recorded as a hard copy measure.

It is one of the most complex system for the analyst. It isn't just spotlight on understudies' capacity recorded as a hard copy yet in addition it encourages understudies' thinking point of view in imaging thing that has been told by the reseahers.

The Adantages of Tell Show Technique

Tell show methodology is one of composing techniques which is utilized by educator to build understudies' presentation recorded as a hard copy. The Tell Show system is extremely valuable. This methodology is utilized to help understudies simpler recorded as a hard copy learning measure. Steve Peha expressed that utilizing Tell Show methodology adds distinct detail to the composing section. It implies that this methodology assists the understudies with being simpler recorded as a hard copy clear text.

Examination Technique

This examination utilized the quantitative exploration. This examination was a test research by utilizing genuine trial plan which comprises of test class and control class. The researchchers regulated pre-test and post-test in exploratory and control class. This plan was utilized to think about the condition previously, then after the fact treatment. At the two tests, the understudies were approached to compose an expressive text dependent on the theme that had been given. In pretest the scientists utilized test with the theme "family". In handling medicines the specialists utilized point "school" and post test the analysts utilized subject "climate".

While the exploratory class was treated by utilizing the tell-show methodology, the control class was educated without utilizing tell show procedure. The educator has shown composing through the kinds of text accessible in understudies' reading material.

Through the sorts of text in their course book, the understudies will perceive and comprehend about sort of text, reason, association, and language highlight. At the principal action, instructor request that the understudies audit all perspectives in a text, for instance spellbinding text (its motivation, association, and semantic component). Then, at that point, the understudies compose a distinct text dependent on instructors' clarification and get the input from the educator and rework.

CONCLUSION

In view of the information gathered the reseahers presumes that applying Tell and Show Procedure is acceptable technique that can impact the understudies' clear text composing capacity.

REFERENCES

1. David Nunan. Introducing Discourse Analysis. England: Penguin Group. 1993.
2. Jonassen. D. H. 2006. "A Constructivist's Perspective on Functional Contextualism Educational Technology," Research and Development", 54(1): pp. 43-47.
3. Tarigan, Djago. (1981). Menulis Paragraph dan Pengembangannya. Angkasa Bandung. Bandung.
4. Karimov Komiljon Abduraximovich. (2021). Features Of Distance Learning In Professional Education. The American Journal of Social Science and Education Innovations, 3(03), 522-527.
5. Halliday, M.A.K. and R. Hasan. Cohesion in English. London: Longmn 1976.